

Nicola Tang Zhan Ying

Nicola Tang Zhan Ying is a Partner in LHAG's Corporate & Commercial Disputes Practice Group. Her practice focuses on civil fraud, fraudulent trading, directors' duties, shareholder and boardroom disputes, asset recovery and contentious insolvency. She acts for private clients and corporations across a diverse range of industries, including investment holdings, construction, manufacturing, plantation, banking, automotive, education, insurance and healthcare. Her international clientele includes corporations from the United Kingdom, China and Japan.

Nicola works closely with accounting and forensic experts on financial reviews, data preservation and the analysis of imaged data. She also advises boards on governance responses to suspected misconduct and breaches of duty, including safeguarding evidence, reporting obligations and decision-making in high-risk situations. She regularly appears before all levels of the Malaysian Courts and represents clients in domestic and international commercial arbitration.

Beyond practice, Nicola is a trainer for the Malaysian Bar's Advocacy Training Course, a contributor to Malaysian Civil Procedure and Bullen & Leake & Jacob's Malaysian Precedents of Pleadings, and regularly speaks at legal conferences and forums.
